School of Liberal Arts

The liberal arts are an important part of a Berkeley College education. The School of Liberal Arts offers courses in Social Sciences, English, Humanities, Mathematics, and Science. These courses add value to the specialized, career-focused business, health, or professional studies training received by students.

In addition to helping students develop critical thinking, writing, reading, and interpretive skills, the School of Liberal Arts exposes students to ideas, issues, and achievements that affect the world. The well-rounded programs at Berkeley College are designed to prepare intellectually curious students for both personal and professional success.
