Berkeley College Overview

Since 1931, Berkeley College has been committed to preparing students for professional and personal success in a wide range of fields. Berkeley is comprised of the Larry L. Luig School of Business, the School of Professional Studies, the School of Health Studies, and the School of Liberal Arts. The College offers Bachelor's degree, Associate's degree, and Certificate programs.

Our approach to career-focused education combines:

- 1 Programs and curricula that are developed and regularly updated with input from industry experts to ensure that students have the skills and knowledge demanded by employers
- 1 Classroom and "hands-on" training from faculty chosen for academic excellence and professional experience in the subjects they teach
- 1 Valuable career experience through internships, practicums, or job-related assignments
- 1 Lifetime career assistance for graduates
